Know Us :-

Five Stones is a one-stop Export company dealing in natural and manmade Indian stones like granite, marble, quartz stone (engineered stone slabs), sandstone, limestone, semi-precious stone slabs, etc. We are not merely conduits of stone trading, but we cater to the needs of international clients with our expertise, experience and efficiency.

Having worked in the international business for many years, we realised there is a gaping need of traders and exporters who understand the requirements of different countries as per their culture and provide a wide array of stones in one consolidated place. As a result, we have formed strategic alliances with manufacturing units from North India and South India that offer good quality stones. We source locally and deliver globally!

As an environmentally conscious company, we collaborate only with manufacturing units that extract these stones responsibly and sustainably. We value your time and ensure that our orders get delivered as per the deadline and assure complete professionalism, just the way it should be. We offer all this and more at competitive prices. We have standard and customised packages as per the quality, thickness, colour and pattern of the stones. Rest assured, you will only have to pay for what is delivered to you. And we deliver what we promise!

To understand industry trends and provide all kinds of natural and man-made Indian stones under one roof to international clients. Along with a steadfast commitment of timely delivering superior quality stones and efficient service, our open-minded approach and acceptance of client feedback make us their trusted partner in India.

Mission

To grow from a trading company into a global brand and be as rock solid, stable and longlasting as the stones. We aspire to have our own manufacturing units and stockyards in India with a strong distribution network in multiple countries that will further enable us to be the agents of change in this industry.

Vision

What We Do

At Five Stones, we have tied up with credible manufacturing units from various states of South Indian and North India. With our excellent network of stone manufacturers across India, we provide complete assurance to meet all your requirements. Be it marble from Rajasthan, Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh or granite, sandstone and limestone from Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh we have covered it all.

Having comprehensive knowledge of all the stages of production right from blocks being extracted in quarries, their dressing, processing and finishing to being loaded in the container; we live up to your expectations. We assure that the overall quality of the stone or tile remains unaffected by ensuring its thickness, calibration, edge angle degree, edge profiling and chamfering is as per your requirements. Polished, leather, honed, flamed, brushed, antique, giano or bush hammered finish; we know it all!

Furthermore, our service is not just exclusive to trading. We also offer professional consultancy by educating and guiding our clients on the range of stones and their spectrum of colours and patterns.
